Editor's News

Please keep all the articles rolling in! Remember articles do not have to be three pages long as every little article helps make The Way more enjoyable for all to read. Don't forget if you need the article typed just give it to Danny Gibson or leave it in an envelope at the church marked "The Way". So put your thinking caps on and get writing!

Equalities & Diversity Statement

St Luke's Methodist Church Centre is committed to eliminating discrimination and creating an environment where all people, regardless of gender, cultural or ethnic origin, disability, sexual orientation, age, religion or belief, are treated with dignity and respect. We have procedures in place which enable complaints of discrimination to be dealt with promptly and fairly. If any person has a complaint about discrimination they can approach the Minister, Revd Tony Graff or any of the Church Stewards. Complaints will be dealt with in a sensitive manner and in the strictest confidence.

Message from Tony

Dear Friends,

I wonder how good you are at solving murder mysteries. I heard recently about an experiment where groups of people were given a whodunit and asked to work it out. They were provided with case notes, records of interviews and descriptions of suspects. These contained the clues that would lead to the answer. Each group had to decide which one of three people had committed the crime. The groups trying to solve the problem were made up of four people. Some groups were made up of four friends, and some of three friends and one stranger.

The groups made up entirely of friends enjoyed the process, had a happy time and were confident that they had done well. Those that included one stranger did not enjoy the process, their time together was not happy and they doubted that they had done well.

I wish I could tell you that the result of this experiment was that the groups of four friends did best. It would suit me if this was a story about how good relationships and feeling comfortable together equals better achievement. But the opposite turned out to be true. Those groups that contained a stranger were considerably better at getting the right answer than those who were just made up of friends.

It appears that we sometimes do better and achieve more in difficult circumstances than we do when things are easy. The presence of a stranger in the groups trying to solve the mystery left people feeling awkward. They found themselves having to work a bit harder. In contrast the groups of friends may have been a little complacent and may have got a bit too comfortable. It seems that having obstacles to overcome, having a bit of a mess to contend with can sometimes be helpful. We might not enjoy it, but the end result is greater creativity and more success in getting the job done.

I wonder if any of that sounds familiar to us at St Luke's. We have faced challenging times recently as we have put together and are about to start work on plans for our building. It is hard to put together proposals; get others to agree with what we are doing; raise the money through fund raising and completing grant applications; deal with architects and builders. But while we have faced the challenge the spirit within the Church has been good. When Sam Funnell came to take our Church Anniversary last year she commented on how we seemed to be in good heart and how it was a joy to be with us. Maybe taking an uphill struggle sometimes does us good. Perhaps it gives us a sense of purpose and causes us to pull together.

May God continue to bless us, Tony

PS: I got the story of the groups of people solving a murder mystery from Tim Harford. Some of you may know him as the presenter of the radio programme "More or Less". He used the whodunit illustration in a fantastic talk with the title "How messy problems can inspire creativity" which you can find on the internet. In his talk he has an even better story about an unplayable piano. I'm saving that one to share with you later.

Thank You from Moira and Alan Robinson

Alan and I were having our coffee after the morning service on January 10th when Ian Smith put a number of envelopes on the table which, when we opened at home, found were Christmas Cards addressed to us from some good friends at St Luke's. As we couldn't send cards to them so long after Christmas we wondered how we could send them our appreciation. So we asked Ian at Sunday service, and he suggested we write a letter to the Magazine which is what we have done, and this is a very sincere "Thank You" message to all you kind, dear friends for the cards, your good wishes, the warm friendship and the welcome and concern you've shown us ever since we came to St Luke's. (You will I gather, I hope, we are so happy we found you).

Wednesday Fellowship

The Wednesday Fellowship continues to meet once a fortnight and we have experienced some enjoyable meetings during the last few months. The first of these since the last magazine was our Carol Service, which we held on December 2nd. We listened to the wonderful Christmas story once more and sang along to some of our favourite carols. We then tucked in to some tasty sausage rolls and mince pies with our cups of tea. On December 16th we came together for our last meeting before Christmas to share some of our memories of this special time of the year and listen to readings and music of the season. A happy time was had by all.

We returned in the New Year on January 6th for our Welcome Back Party beginning as usual with our devotional time and then moving on to a 'bit of fun time' with a quiz and a CD of Wartime Songs to sing along to. Everyone enjoyed chatting together as they tried to remember the answers, which they managed very well! As this was going on platefuls of scrumptious food appeared and everyone tucked in - thank you, Pauline!

On January 20th, Rev Tony Graff joined us to finish his telling of the story of Ruth. He picked up the narrative when Boaz wants to marry Ruth but knows that there is another family member who has more right so he has to approach him. They meet at the town's gate with ten men as witnesses and Boaz tells the relative that Naomi is selling a field but if he wants it he will have to take Ruth as is his wife. The man decides that this is not for him which leaves Boaz free to marry Ruth. He does and they go on to have a son whom the women of Bethlehem name Obed. He will be a descendant of King David and of Jesus. A happy ending to a beautiful story tucked away in the Old Testament.

February 3rd brought Roger Smithies for a return visit although we see him regularly when he brings Angela and joins us for a cup of tea. If you remember, the last time he came he shared some of his earliest memories of working at sea. He continued with this theme and told us some interesting things about life on board. The crew were allowed a certain amount of duty free spirits, cigarettes and beer, which had to be used while on board. Once, they were on their way back from Rotterdam with a cargo of rice but there was a two week wait to get into London so the skipper decided they should go to Rochester and wait there. Roger experienced a brush with Customs & Excise when he went ashore because he was carrying 4 packets of tobacco for his dad! Smuggling was still going on at that time so they were always on the look out. Fortunately, they decided to let him off and he didn't see the inside of a cell!! He also recounted the story of his first go at sculling when he was supposed to pick up two people ashore. The tide was very strong and Roger ended up floating past the people until he was rescued by a lighter, which took him back to pick them up! Another time his boat was carrying malted barley to Snape in Suffolk where they needed the help of a pilot who was a character called Jumbo. A very interesting and amusing afternoon and we look forward to the next instalment in Roger's eventful life at sea.

On February 17th we were pleased to welcome back an old friend in Margaret Howlett. In her usual cheery way she spoke about joy, which is what Easter is all about. She shared her thoughts about seeds and what an amazing miracle they are as they produce new life from something so dead looking. We are like the seeds when we give our lives to Him and we need to be cared for and nurtured in a fellowship so that we grow spiritually. It takes time to grow and is not all smooth going so we need to feed on His word every day and share fellowship with each other, share our highs and lows.

During this past couple of months we have welcomed back Iris Donoghue from a visit to her daughter in America; celebrated the birthdays of Cynthia, Betty, Joyce, Margaret and Hilary and continued to miss our dear friends Pauline & John who we lift in prayer at each meeting. We would love to see more people joining us so if you feel that you would like to come along, our meetings are fortnightly on Wednesday afternoons at 2.30pm and the next two before Easter are on March 2nd Therapy Dogs and March 16th Easter Thoughts.

Report of the Church Property and Finance committee to St Luke's Church Council on Thursday 18th February 2016

Where does one start? In December we met with the Architect and advised him that we were still waiting for consent from the Methodist Church to carry out our building scheme. It was agreed that we still went out to Tender for the contract but we could at that stage NOT commit the church to any contractor.

The consent came through in early January 2016 before the closing date for the tenders which were being sent to the architect direct.

When the tenders were received and opened a meeting was held between the property committee and the architect. We looked in great depth at all the tenders and were guided through this process by James Wood the architect. Several of those who were invited to tender did not do so. Of those who did tender three of them had requested site visits before placing their tender.

One of the tenderers did not give a detailed enough tender and were very wishy washy on other aspects. Of the two tenders we looked at the committee felt that the figure they had submitted were much higher than we were expecting. We asked the architect to ask these two tenderers to see if there was any way they could cut cost and resubmit.

James was also given the names of two other building companies to approach.

New tenders were sorted and following a meeting on Saturday 13th February it was agreed, after a great deal of discussion, subject to Church Council approval we give the job to Astral builders, architects fees a cost of £139,663,50 Plus VAT, plus the architect's fees making the whole project about £190,000 incl VAT. We currently have about £120,000 raised and promised and we now have to go out to ask for grants, this would be done by Ian Smith and Val Gibson. We have at least 11 places to contact for a grant.

There were to be a number of Pre Contract meetings and ongoing meetings during the building process and these would be attended by Ian and Danny. If either one could not attend another member of the property meeting would stand in.

Again I would like to place on record the thanks of the Property and Finance committee for the help, support and encouragement of Mr Brian Davis and Mr Roger Barton from the circuit.

I would like to propose on behalf of the Property and finance committee the following:

1. That the actions of the property and finance meeting regarding the contract for the work to be given to Astral builders
2. That any meetings held between the architect, and builder be attended by Ian Smith and Danny Gibson or a substitute if one of these two are not available
3. That the Church Council agree to grants being sort on behalf of the Church by Ian & Val

26th March, 30th April and 28th May at 10am

ALL WELCOME

Come in for a cup of Fair-trade tea or coffee, cake and a chat.

As we have some new members in our congregation I thought I would take the opportunity to tell you about the Prayer Chain at St Luke's. The Prayer Chain has been going for some years now and is basically the place to go if you have a prayer need, which you would like to share with others who are prepared to pray for you. It might be for yourself or for someone you know and you can share as little or as much as you want – it is usually better to just have a few basic details so that it is easier to pass on. There is a list of people involved on the notice board at the back of the church and it is best to contact either Fran Shepherd on 811129 or Pearl on 867204 who will then pass the request on. If you would like to be part of the Prayer Chain please see Fran Shepherd.

Money

With money you can buy a house, but not a home.

With money you can buy a clock, but not time.

With money you can buy a bed, but not sleep.

With money you can buy a book, but not knowledge.

With money you can buy a doctor, but not good health

With money you can buy a position, but not respect.

With money you can buy blood, but not life.

With money you can buy sex, but not love.

Help us to handle not only the money we have with caution, care and respect to live for things that money can not buy.

Offertory Envelopes and giftaid it

The offertory envelope system is one simple way of financially supporting St Luke's by encouraging regular weekly giving. The system is simple, a set of fifty-two weekly dated and numbered envelopes are issued. The number identifies the person to whom the envelope has been issued and the dates are for each Sunday, so that if you are unable to attend St Luke's for any reason the offering can be put in the envelope each week and given at the next visit to church. The advantage of church members using this system helps the Treasurer when preparing the budgets and Angie Rastall who administers the Gift Aid Scheme. As the Envelope Secretary my role is to administer, order and supply the envelopes and I am not present when the envelopes are opened or aware of the contents. In 1982, 71 members of St Luke's were using the envelope system, today it is down to 18 members. If you would like more information or wish to be provided with a set please do not hesitate to speak to a Steward or contact me direct on 01634 201429

Gift Aid it! If you are a UK taxpayer, your donation will be worth up to a quarter more at no extra cost to you, Gift Aid means that for every-£1 you-give,-St Luke's can claim up to 25p from the Government. This means a donation of £10 can be worth up to £12.50 and it doesn't cost you a penny more! If you would like more information regarding Gift Aid please do not hesitate to speak to Angie Rastall.

Dear Friends,

Corps Officers:
Majors Alec and Andrea Still

Re: Salvation Army Christmas parcels appeal

Thank you so much for your kind donation to the Chatham Salvation Army Christmas appeal.

Every Christmas the Salvation Army, with the generous help of the public and other organisations, give out new toys and Christmas 'goodies' to families, young people and the homeless who are in need in Medway. It is an important part of our ministry. It is not just about giving a practical gift, but for many people that fact that someone has noticed they are in need and wants to help gives a powerful message of God's love. Your gifts mean that joy and the true spirit of Christmas can be shared in this way.

Thank you again for your kindness. Happy Christmas.

Yours sincerely

Parents' Prayer

God of wisdom God of love
Teach us to understand our children
And may they understand us,
That we may learn from each other.
Make us sensitive, make us patient,

Make us attentive.
As we grow together in love
Let us grow in awareness of You,
That we may know your blessing
Upon us and upon our children.

THE THINGS CHILDREN SAY.... AND DO

Working in a primary school where children are not so self-conscious as in later years has thrown up quite a few funny incidents. I mentioned a couple some time back and a few others spring to mind now which I will relate to you.

I was working in a Year 3 class (7 and 8 year olds) and one young lad just could not sit still. He would shout out answers when told not to, let his mind wander and gaze into space and, when supposedly sitting quietly 'on the carpet' to listen to the teacher, would fidget and move around. After an incident related below he didn't do it quite so much as before. This was because he always sat, usually knelt if the truth be known, on the floor with his hands in his pockets (despite often being told to take them out). One afternoon he was doing his usual swaying and fidgeting when he overbalanced, couldn't put his hands out in time to save himself and received a large carpet burn on his forehead when it reached the floor. Lesson learnt!

There was a child in Year 4 who was always whinging and 'telling' on the other children. Despite the fact that she usually instigated the problem in the first place it was always the other child's fault. If we didn't take her word for it she would burst into tears and continually moan. I solved this problem quite brutally actually. I got a large plastic mirror and showed her what her face looked like when she was crying. I defy any child not to laugh when they see the faces they pull when blubbing. I only had to do this a few times and things became calmer (she still moaned, but stopped her crying).

This was related to me by the teacher concerned as I was not in the class. The lesson was proceeding quietly enough when a usually very meek and mild child suddenly shouted out 'Jesus is coming down!' The teacher and TA with him were quite alarmed by this and looked wildly around for their visitor. It was only when the boy pointed to a picture high up on the wall drawn by another pupil that they were able to relax. The blu-tac had come unstuck on the top part of the picture of Jesus!

When children come up from the infants into Balfour Junior's Year 3 we give them a little lee-way at first to see who tries to 'swing the lead'. One way children do this is to continually ask to go to the loo. Once we realise they are bluffing we curtail the amount of times they go, pointing out they have break and lunch time to attend to the needs of nature. One young lady was in this category and I had been instructed by the teacher to say no. So I did, until one afternoon after a refusal on my part she said 'If you don't let me go I shall wet myself on purpose'. Stupidly I decided to call her bluff.....I will leave it to your to imagine as to what happened next!

I like working with children. They're weird! Tim.

Summary of Church Council Held on 18th February 2016

Regarding the Building Project there were three proposals brought to the meeting from the Property & Finance Committee as follows:

1. That the contract for the work should be given to Astral Builders.
 2. That any meetings held between the architect and builder be attended by Ian Smith and Danny Gibson or a substitute if one of these are not available.
 3. That the Church Council agree to grants being sought on behalf of the church by Ian & Val.
- These proposals were all agreed by the meeting. The cost of the project will now be about £190,000 including VAT. We currently have about £120,000 raised and promised and we now have to go out for grants. We have at least 11 places to contact for a grant.
 - Thanks were recorded to Brian Davies and Roger Barton for their help and advice during this time of planning and letters will be sent.

There was a big clear out of the storeroom a few weeks ago. We have lost Tai Kwando as a letting and now they have taken all their equipment it has freed up space.

Finance - the accounts for the year ending August 2015 have been audited and they were agreed by the meeting.

Appointments:

- Dorothy and Ian have been reviewed as Worship Leaders by The Local Preachers Meeting and the Church Council approved their continuation in this post.
- John and Fran's appointment as the representatives who take out Extended Communion to those who are unable to attend church was ratified by the meeting.

- We are still seeking someone to take on the post of Christian Aid secretary.

Fund Raising:

- The recent Quiz evening raised £195 in total.
- The planned Panto has been cancelled because of lack of support.
- A concert given by Brian Davies and friends will now take place in the Autumn.
- There is a Beetle Drive & Silent Auction on February 27th.
- Junior Church is continuing when the children are there and for three Sundays out of four. The leaders and helpers will be commissioned at a service on 17th April.
- Pastoral - the next meeting of the committee is on April 14th. The Commissioning Service on February 14th was an encouragement and reminder for us and the whole church of this unique characteristic of Methodism.
- Circuit News - sadly, Rev Noreen Daley -Lee is unwell again and unable to work at present. We are waiting to see what the future holds and lift her in prayer.

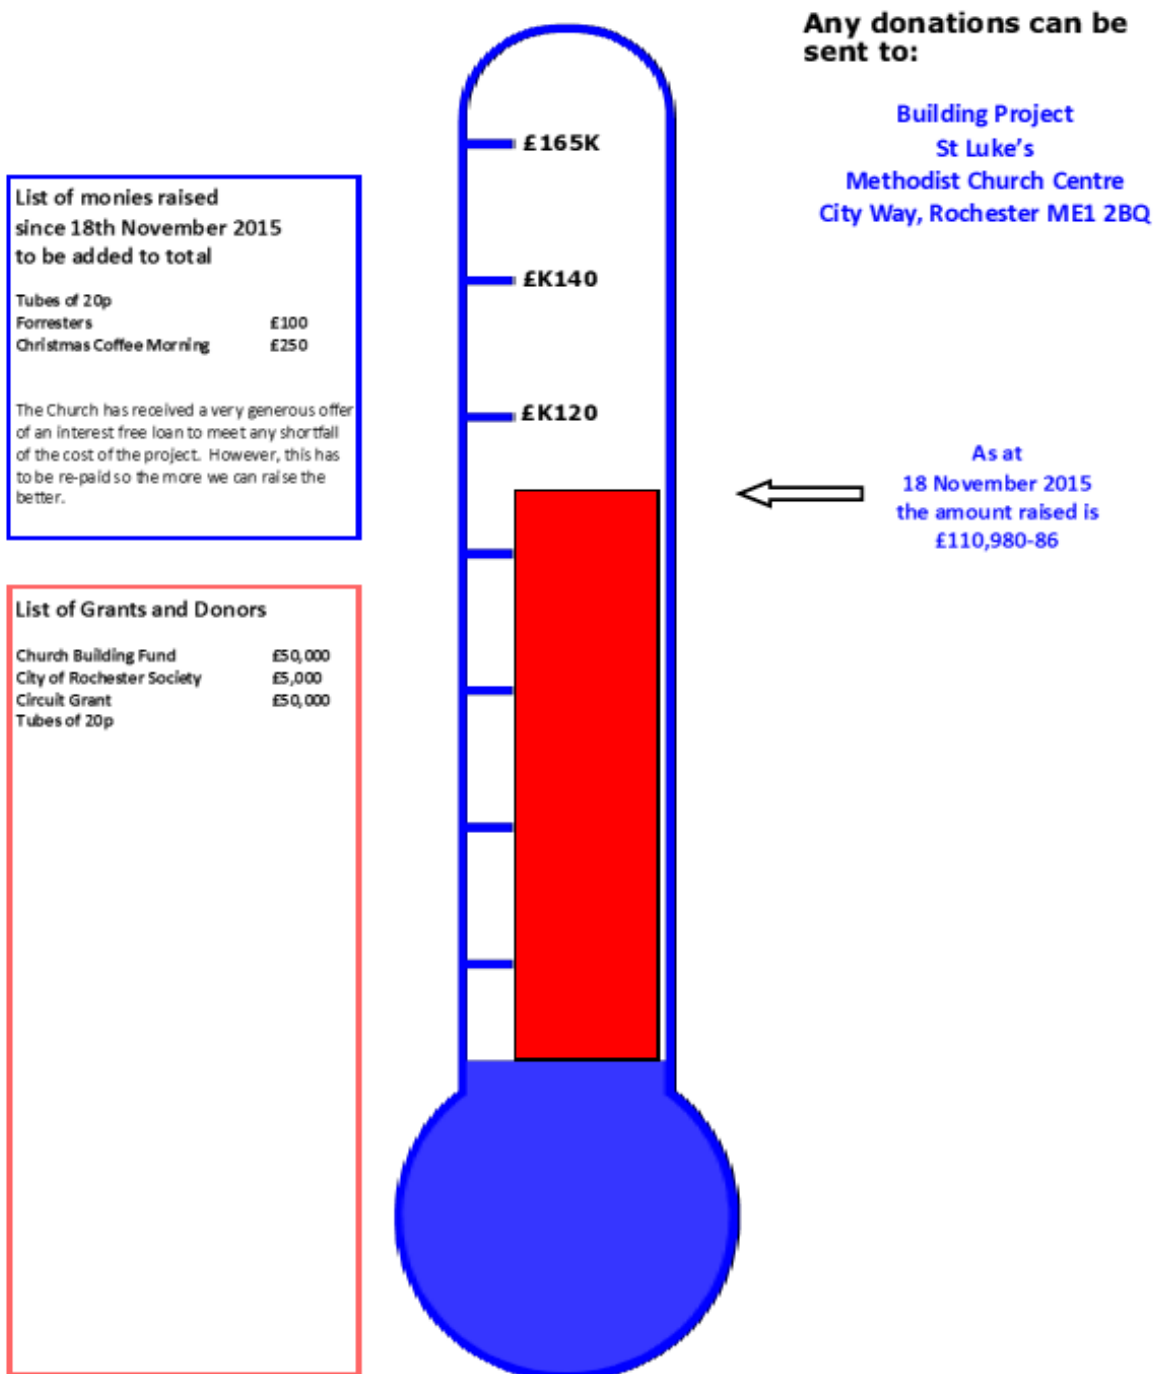

Dates for your diaries:

- Maundy Thursday 24.03.16 - Fish & Chips at 5.30pm followed by a service at 6.30 led by Tony Graff.
- Good Friday 25.03.16 - service at 10.30am led by Tony Graff.
- Easter Sunday 27 03 16 - Breakfast at 8.15. Service of Holy Communion led by Bryan Tolhurst at 10.30am.
- Church General Meeting 17.04.16 after the morning service.
- Church Anniversary weekend - Saturday 18th June a Circuit Event of games; Sunday service led by Bryan Tolhurst followed by lunch.

Update on St Luke's Building Project

We are currently carrying out pre-contract meetings with the nominated builders, Astral Ltd, but the exciting news is that the building project, subject to the contract being signed, will start on Monday 11th April 2016. The last service in the church will be on Sunday 3rd April led by Brian Davies. What a fitting person to lead the last service before the project commences as Brian and Roger Barton have been assisting and guiding the Property Committee throughout this difficult phase. A big thank you to both of them.

News From Joseph in Malawi

December 4th 2015:

Malawi is supposed to be raining this time around but it is still dry. It is getting wearisome especially with the poor yield last season then we can foresee serious hunger from February next year. Already the price for maize is rising by the day.

May He be our Lord and that only His will be fulfilled always in us. We are all well and the small boy is growing tall. Wishing you all the best and God's blessing.

December 7th:

Dad is better although it is now confirmed that he has prostate cancer, which is very common in old men. In Malawi there are some herbs, which are believed to give some relief and he is already on them. Surely, I need guidance as sometimes I get confused when I think about life and what I am going through. I try to figure why and when shall I make a breakthrough. God knows why I am here and why I am experiencing all this. I am stuck but still hopeful. He is in control.

May the good Lord keep blessing you always.

December 14th:

Christmas is approaching. May you have successful preparations for this festival period. I wish you a healthy life. God will see us through in this world of so many questions but with little answers.

Malawians are busy dividing themselves because of selfish leadership. I foresee another Zimbabwe as the land issue has surfaced with Malawian stakeholders making unreasonable claims. End times. May you be blessed always.

Regards to all brothers and sisters in Christ.

December 18th:

It's busy this time around in the Christian community as people are preparing for Christmas. We are having daily sessions from Sunday when we shall reflect on the birth of Christ -who He is, why He came and what He expects of us i.e. To have fellowship with God.

There is very good improvement in Dad's health. The world gave us no hope saying he is too old for good health but God has proved otherwise. Truly nothing is impossible with God. Thanks for your prayers. Thank you for the gift, which will go a long way considering the economic hardships in the country. May God richly bless you all.

Let me once again wish you all well and may His presence be in all your undertaking.

Thank you for the gift, which I have cashed. I am actually thinking of what to buy Dad for Christmas. I would like him to see you in the gift to appreciate the spiritual brotherhood in Christ despite the distance. Thank you very much and may God richly bless you.

January 13th 2016:

What a start to the New Year. Malawi is being punished for legalizing homosexuality. We have no rains hence looming hunger. Deaths have already been registered. Some parts of the country on the other hand have had a heavy, disastrous downpour. So many houses felled, killing people in the process.

I have doubts about returning to Mozambique. Fighting is worsening and my brother has come back sensing disaster.

February 4th:

There had been an outcry by all Malawians because of the looming hunger. For a long time there had not been a drop of rain even though it is the rainy season. The rain has now come and we are very thankful, even more so for the prayers. God is faithful.

February 9th:

Dad is well, at least he is eating although more worryingly he is refusing to take medicine or drink water. I am considering taking him to my house because he cannot bath or dress himself. I believe now I am the right person to take care of him and not my sisters. There seems to be a dim light for a job in the government. I am just praying that it materialises. I am also expecting to hear from the School of Health Sciences.

Am wishing you all good health and God's blessing.
We are fine.

Unexpectedly the rains just stopped before the maturity of Malawi's staple crop maize. I have sent you some pictures of the withering crop. Very disastrous pictures.

Very proud of Mzati who suddenly is doing very well in mathematics. At least he compensate the looming hunger threat. Not afraid anyway because God fed Elija in a drought stricken land, he also fed Israelites in the desert. Dad's health condition is good but looking after him in my house still remains my prime desire.

My regards to all St Lukes congregants.
We are all well. Joseph

on 9th April
